ARMIES FLEE BEFORE GREAT CHINA FLOODS

No Battle Now Near Yellow River; Many Bodies Seen Floating

Japanese Help In Rescue of Chinese

SHANGHAI (AP)—Both Chinese and Japanese armies are fleeing before a Yellow River flood that can not be stopped either by guns or bombs.

Spilling through immense breaches in the river dikes between Chengchow and Kaiteng, the flood waters Wednesday rolled for miles across the flat plains of Honan province, recognizing no man-made barriers and carrying disaster to millions of Chinese peasants as well as to armies.

Japanese war dispatches said fully 300,000 Chinese civilians had been made homeless and estimated 150,000 civilians had drowned.

MANY BODIES SEEN

Hundreds of floating corpses were declared visible. Japanese troops were participating feverishly in building rafts in an effort to save Chinese peasants stranded on high ground and house-tops.

Delayed Japanese dispatches said the rapidly-rising flood was coursing in a southeasterly direction from Chungmow. It was believed the towns of Yushih, Tungshu and Kihshien soon would be directly threatened.

Flowing over the east-west Lunghai railway, in some places at a depth of five feet, the waters interposed a complete barrier to a Japanese advance on Chengchow and to their push farther south toward the north-south Peiping-Hankow line.

For the moment Kaiteng, to which Japanese troops had been forced to retreat, was declared to be safe, though surrounded by high water. Kaiteng is 43 miles east of Chengchow and is the headquarters for a Canadian Anglican mission. The missionaries were making efforts to organize Chinese farmers and civilians in combating the waters.

CHOLERA SPREADS

Cholera has reached epidemic proportions in Shanghai, with 123 cases in hospitals, of which 73 originated in foreign-administered areas of the city, municipal authorities said.

A Japanese spokesman said Wednesday night eight Chinese had died in Japanese-occupied Soochow, 50 miles west of here, and 14 others had contracted the disease.

The British steamship Shuntien was quarantined at Chefoo, on the north Shantung coast, after one cholera death aboard.

GOLD HOARDING RUSH IN EUROPE

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 8 a.m. today—No ship reports are available off the British Columbia coast, but pressure appears to be relatively high on the Pacific. Moderate rains have been general in northern districts and many light showers are reported in the vicinity of Vancouver Island and also in the prairie provinces. It has been moderately warm in the Okanagan and Kootenay.

Many Veterans To Visit Toronto

CALGARY (CP)—Veterans of the Canadian Corps in the Great War will invade Toronto in tens of thousands from July 30 to August 1. W. F. Harvey, secretary of the Canadian Corps Association of Alberta, stated today.

"We expect an attendance of 100,000 members of the association at the giant Canadian Corps reunion," he said. "It promises to be the greatest gathering of veterans since the war."

Bank Branches In Alberta Closing

Commerce Starts With Five;
Wetaskiwin Urges Aberhart
Reduce Taxation

TORONTO (CP)—It is "impossible to say at this stage" how many bank branches are likely to close in Alberta, Sydney H. Logan, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said today in commenting on yesterday's Calgary announcement that five branches would close within the next month.

"We will have to close more of them if we find the losses are too heavy. There are some small points out in the west where there is little business and the taxes make it impossible for such branches to pay."

Mr. Logan consulted records to show that of 221 branches, 41 made profits and 180 were operated at an actual loss.

BOARD'S APPEAL

WETASKIWIN, Alta. (CP)—Reduction of taxation on banks to "enable them to remain open and serve the people" is urged in a letter sent Premier William Aberhart by the Wetaskiwin Board of Trade.

"Our representations to you are the considered opinion of our members, who appreciate and value the part banks occupy in any community," said the letter. (Announcement was made in Calgary Tuesday that five branch banks would be closed in Alberta districts within the next month.)

The last five items are all in Cariboo mining district.

Mr. Assestine said that in allocating money for trails the government's object would be to open up areas that are practically inaccessible, but which have good prospects.

"We want to encourage prospectors to widen their search and we will try to make it easier by extending trails into difficult districts," he said.

KIDNAPPER TO FACE SEN- TENCE TOMORROW

nose but I didn't know it. I walked home.

"It was dark, and when I got home I put Skeegie on the bed and shook him and called his name, but got no answer.

"I was afraid and tried artificial respiration to try and wake him up. I got cold water from the icebox and bathed his face, but he didn't wake up.

"I knew he was dead. He didn't struggle or move. I saw he was dead and didn't know what to do.

"I picked him up and started out the back door. I didn't have any particular place in mind and went through the woods back of the house to the place where the body was found and placed it there.

"Then I went home and got the ransom note."

J. B. Cash sr. and federal agents detailed their story of the crime while the judge listened intently.

McCall, a minister's son, had pleaded guilty to the ransom kidnapping charge, but innocent to a murder indictment.

The federal agents quoted McCall's signed confession he had stolen the boy from his bed May 28 with handkerchiefs over his mouth and eyes, the boy died accidentally and he collected the $10,000 ransom.

DOCTOR IS CRITICIZED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judge H. Shandley today dismissed an action of Dr. E. A. McQuade, Trenton, Ont., physician, to recover about $700 from Stuart Grant, and criticized the doctor's treatment of his former patient.

"I find that the plaintiff's treatment of the defendant (Grant) was dangerous, worthless, valueless and not good medical practice and contrary to the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act," the judge said.

Judge Shandley said in his judgment that Dr. McQuade had admitted in court that he treated Grant with morphine as a cure for alcoholism, and the defendant had acquired a liking for the drug.

Then Dr. McQuade had to cure Grant of the morphine habit.

The claim was disputed by Grant on grounds it included morphine injections which were illegal under the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act.

Dr. McQuade claimed $770, all of which was dismissed except an item of $71, which was not disputed.

Canada's Exports Show Decrease

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's exports in May were valued at $67,769,500, a drop of $35,755,053 compared with $103,524,553 in May, 1937, the Department of National Revenue reported today.

The department announced customs and excise revenue in May totaled $26,210,143, a decrease of $2,411,627 compared with $28,621,770 in May, 1937.

Details of revenue, with figures for May, 1937, in brackets: Customs duties $7,293,106 ($8,712,926); excise tax $14,408,345 ($15,509,856); excise duties $4,463,487 ($4,345,154); sundry collections $45,294 ($53,833).

FRANCOISTS SINK FRENCH VESSEL

The road from Castellon to Valencia was a death highway. Scores of families told of stopping to scoop out shallow graves for relatives or friends killed by bombs and machine-gun bullets from insurgent planes.

There was scarcely an able-bodied man among the refugees. Adult males were left behind to dig government trenches or to take places in the lines.

NEW OFFENSIVE

HENDAYE (AP)—A surprise insurgent offensive in southern Spain today imperilled government defences between two widely-separated fronts.

While General Franco's forces pushed retreating government militiamen south of the Milares River, below Castellon de la Plana on the eastern coast, another insurgent army advanced on the southern Cordoba front.

Insurgent dispatches reported virtual government collapse on both fronts.

FASCIST SCHOOLS

"When we are investigating the Workers' Benevolent Society," said M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rostown - Biggar, Sask., "we should also investigate an Italian society which got a Dominion charter a few years ago. I am informed it is conducting Fascist schools in various parts of the Dominion."

The name of the society, Mr. Finlayson said, was the Order of Italian Canadians.

Mr. McGee's motion to hold up the bill until Mr. Finlayson obtained more information about its activities was accepted.

Rain Expected Along B.C. Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—Heavy clouds hung over the coast district of British Columbia today, bringing hopes of heavy rain to farmers who this week feared continuation of a two-week dry spell would harm fruit crops.

The forecast was for showers.

SWIMMER LOSES LIFE

SEATTLE (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Norman Henderson, high school sophomore, was found dead in a swimming pool last night. A few minutes earlier, he had ignored the plea of Donald Finn, 15, a companion, to leave the pool and get dressed. A fire department in-haler squad was unable to revive him.

Motion Picture Writer Passes

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—John Van Alstyne Weaver, 45, author, motion picture script writer and newspaperman, died today of tuberculosis. A native of Charlotte, N.C., he was a book reviewer for the Chicago Daily News in 1916 and from 1920 to 1924 was literary editor of the Brooklyn Eagle. Later he was a writer for Paramount Pictures.

He was married to Peggy Wood, actress, in 1924.

RAIL CUTS ARE TRACED TO 1932

Senators Told of Line Abandonment Proposals During Duff Inquiry

OTTAWA (CP)—"Initiative of the line abandonment proposals lay with the Royal Commission, which had already been acquainted with the Canadian National estimate of savings from the abandonment of 2,434 miles of line," it was disclosed to the Senate railways committee today in a letter from E. P. Flintoff, Canadian Pacific counsel.

Col. O. M. Biggar, counsel for the committee, read the letter to the committee. Evidence before the committee hitherto had been that proposals for abandoning many miles of railway line had emanated originally from C.P.R. officials.

With this letter Mr. Flintoff attached two joint statements made by officers of both roads. One, dated December 30, 1931, a few weeks after the Duff Royal Commission of 1932 began its inquiry, covered territory east of Fort William, Ont., and included approximately 1,600 miles of main lines and 175 miles of branch lines.

LINE IN B.C.

The second statement, undated, covered western lines, totaling 1,185 miles of proposed abandonment.

"It also includes the western lines portion of the territory referred to by Mr. Kingsland," Mr. Flintoff wrote. "It also includes the line from Kamloops, B.C., to Vancouver referred to by Mr. Warren."

A. E. Warren, vice-president of the C.N.R., western region, last night had opposed abandonments in that territory.

Today T. H. Cooper, comptroller of the C.N.R., told the committee declared C.P.R. estimates of savings from unified management were based on C.P.R. costs.

He continued, however, that the costs of the C.N.R. compared favorably with that of the other system.

The C.P.R. estimate of $9,864,226 saving on "superintendence" should be reduced to $5,600,000.

"With regard to the remainder of the estimated savings," Mr. Cooper said, "approximately $4,000,000, this depends entirely on what would be done in carrying out the unification plan."

REDUCTIONS COMPARED

Exhibits filed with the committee showed that since 1930 the C.P.R. had reduced its superintendence costs by $792,304 a year, and the C.N.R. by $5,414,992.

REVENUES DOWN

Railway revenues during the first four months of this year were down more than $14,000,000 from the corresponding period of 1937. Mr. Biggar told committee today. He read into the record figures obtained from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Last year Canadian National Railway revenues totaled $62,000,000 and expenses were $37,400,000. This year revenues amounted to $55,100,000, while operating expenses were up to $39,550,000. This represented a drop of $9,000,000.

For the Canadian Pacific Railway the 1937 revenues were $43,500,000 and expenses $38,000,000. This year revenues totaled $40,500,000, with expenses of $38,800,000, to which would have to be added tax accruals of approximately $1,400,000. The total decline was $5,000,000, said Col. O. M. Biggar.

Mr. Cooper read a statement in which he questioned the wisdom of taking 1930 as a basis for comparisons on which estimates of unification savings could be made.

Tacoma Now Has No Morals Squad

TACOMA (AP)—Tacoma isn't immoral enough to need special measures, in the belief of the newly-installed Police Commissioner Holmes Eastwood.

As one of his first official reorganization acts in the department, Eastwood today eliminated the morals squad which has been functioning as a separate unit for 20 years. The two officers, Sgt. Percy Gregg and Patrolman Harry Nelson, were assigned to other duties.

Murray Rumored For British Post

LONDON (CP)—A gossip writer in the London Star today said W. E. Gladston Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, was being mentioned among others as a possible successor to Sir John Reith as director-general of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Sir John is retiring to become chairman of Imperial Airways. Mr. Murray formerly was with the BBC.

The Star's commentator added, however, that he understood Captain Cecil Graves, controller of programs for BBC and a nephew of the late Viscount Grey, would be appointed.

On the other hand, a "Londoner's diary" in the London Evening Standard said Capt. Graves probably would be barred on account of his being a Roman Catholic. This writer added the Church of England was said to regard broadcasting as a powerful instrument of religious education which it was not willing to see in the control of any other than an Anglican.

U.S. WAGE BILL SOON ON BOOKS

Measure Passed By Congress Sent to President to Be Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only President Roosevelt's signature was needed today to start an unprecedented federal program for nationwide regulation of industrial working hours and minimum pay in the United States.

Congress approved compromise legislation late yesterday after a Senate debate that left little doubt the law soon will encounter a constitutional test in the courts.

The act is calculated to fix the minimum pay and maximum hours of 750,000 industrial workers, as well as the hours of another 1,500,000 unaffected by the wage provisions. It will go into effect 120 days after being signed by the President.

COMMITTEE PLAN

Industrial committees composed of employers, workers and citizens will be established as quickly as possible in an effort to raise the minimum wage of all industries to 40 cents an hour. For the first year the statutory minimum will be 25 cents, advancing to 30 cents for another year.

For the next five years the committees will fix the minimums, which thereafter will increase to 40 cents in all industries where that scale will not create unemployment.

The act establishes a maximum work week of 44 hours for the first year, 42 hours for the second and 40 thereafter, with time and half pay for overtime. Workers in seasonal industries which do not operate more than 14 weeks a year may be employed for 56 hours a week before being paid overtime.

EXEMPTIONS GIVEN

Some specific exemptions to wage and hour provisions are made in the act. These include all bona fide executive, administrative, professional or local retailing employees. This includes outside salesmen and those working for service establishments, such as laundries, whose chief business is within one state.

Agricultural workers, seamen, aviators, rail employees, street car workers, motor carrier employees, fishing industry employees, workers on small weekly or semi-weekly newspapers, and agricultural and horticultural processors in the area of production are exempt.

Canada's Income Tax Revenue Up

OTTAWA (CP)—The Department of National Revenue reported today income tax collections during the first two months of the 1938-39 fiscal year totaled $96,733,307, an increase of $20,164,333 compared with $76,568,973 in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

Collections in western Canada districts in April and May, with figures for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year in brackets: Vancouver-Victoria $6,018,508 ($4,924,209); Winnipeg $3,030,830 ($1,710,903); Regina $198,867 ($196,415); Calgary $1,033,956 ($803,656); Yukon $27,997 ($4,644).

Armed Farmer Disturbs Poets

AYLMER, Que. (CP)—An irate farmer with a shotgun interrupted the solemn ceremony, attended by some of Canada's leading poets, held under the pines at Brotherhood Wood, near here early today as a tribute to the late Archibald Lampman, one of their most brilliant fellow craftsmen.

The poets attending the Canadian Authors' Association meeting in Ottawa came shortly after midnight to the grove where Lampman found inspiration for some of his noted works.

Suddenly the solemn communion was shattered by an excited farmer with a shotgun bursting in on the gathering to demand the "trespassers" leave his property.

The purpose of the meeting was explained. The farmer's anger subsided. He remained in hand, to add a bucolic touch to the ceremony in his historic pines.

ALBERTA CROP OUTLOOK GOOD

EDMONTON (CP)—General crop conditions in Alberta continue satisfactory and crops have a healthy appearance, according to a report of the provincial Department of Agriculture issued here yesterday.

A large portion of the southern half of the province received good rains, totaling one and one-quarter inches in some districts. Although moisture is lacking north of Edmonton, particularly in the Peace River area, crops are maintaining their growth due to sufficient subsoil moisture.

Coarse grains have not germinated evenly through lack of surface moisture. Seeding is practically completed with the exception of green feed or late sown barley.

The rain in the dry belt has appreciably reduced soil drifting. However, some damage occurred in the Peace River country. These fields are making a rapid recovery. Good general rain would brighten prospects.

Ranges and pastures in the southern half of the province are reported as having a good stand of native grasses. The drier parts of the province report pastures drying to the extent of reducing milk production.

GLASGOW FAIR

LONDON (CP-Havas)—A total of 2,945,752 persons from all parts of the world had visited the Empire Exposition which was opened early in May at Glasgow, Lieut. Colonel John Colville, Secretary of State for Scotland, announced in the House of Commons yesterday.

New Treatment Of Epilepsy

By JANE STAFFORD
Science Service Medical Writer

SAN FRANCISCO—First reports of success in treating epilepsy with a new, scientifically selected remedy were presented by Drs. H. Houston-Merritt and Tracy J. Putnam of the Boston City Hospital and Harvard Medical School at the scientific exhibit of the American Medical Association here.

The new remedy is diphenyl hydantoin. It has been given to over 100 epileptics who had previously been treated for a long time by such standard methods as phenobarbital, bromides and high fat diet, without obtaining any relief from these. Over half the patients suffering from grand mal epilepsy and about one-third of those suffering from petit mal have been entirely relieved. The frequency of attacks has been greatly reduced in another third of the patients in each group.

One of the patients, a 15-year-old boy, had had daily attacks of grand mal which were not affected by phenobarbital. From September 15, when he started taking diphenyl hydantoin, until the following May 1, when he forgot to take it while away on a house party, he did not have a single attack.

FOR NINE MONTHS

The new remedy has been given to patients daily for periods from nine months to three months. No deaths have occurred and careful tests of kidneys, blood and liver have not shown any harmful effects. A few patients have had skin rashes which cleared up, and a few had spells of dizziness and slight drowsiness, but these also disappeared. A few patients were not helped by the new remedy.

An important feature of this remedy, Dr. Putnam pointed out, is that it does not induce sleep, as phenobarbital does. This shows that the convulsions of epilepsy can be controlled without putting the patient to sleep or keeping him in a drowsy state.

TROOPS TO PALESTINE

Report Commends B.C. Penitentiary

Discipline Above Average,
Archambault Board Tells Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The Archambault commission on penitentiaries, whose report recommending many changes in personnel and systems of Canada's federal prisons was tabled yesterday in the House of Commons, dealt individually with the penitentiaries in various parts of the country.

As outlined in the official summary of the findings, individual reports follow:

British Columbia penitentiary: The site does not permit enlargement. Discipline is above the average of Canadian penitentiaries and the warden's court is conducted with proper dignity. The staff is one of the best trained in the penitentiary service. The classification board is in operation, but not yet satisfactory.

The deputy warden is commended by the commission for his individual study of prisoners, and the warden appears to have the confidence of the staff and inmates. The kitchen and store-room are satisfactory in this penitentiary. Serious cases are satisfactorily treated in the neighboring municipal hospital.

Censorship of magazines has been reduced to absurdity, it is stated, and the entire education system requires complete reorganization. The commission reports against the teacher-librarian as lacking the personality or judgment to fulfill his duties satisfactorily.

DISTRUST ON PRAIRIES

Saskatchewan penitentiary: Discipline at this penitentiary is extremely poor. The senior officers do not possess or merit the respect of the staff, it is stated. The whole institution is seething with distrust and intrigue due to the use of inmate informers and a general system of espionage. Trafficking is prevalent and the morale of the staff is extremely low. Strong action will have to be taken to restore discipline and respect.

The commission finds the warden and deputy warden both responsible for these conditions, and the warden is recommended for retirement. The provisions are not properly protected and carelessness is obvious in the commissary department. The hospital is elaborate, expensive and unsatisfactory.

Neither the Roman Catholic nor the Protestant chaplain devotes sufficient time to his duties, it is stated, the schoolroom is unsatisfactory, and the teacher-librarian overtasked.

Dorchester, Que., penitentiary: Criticism is made of the wooden house provided for officers, and it is recommended steps should be taken to improve the water supply.

MUCH FEAR

St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, Que.—Under the wardenship of Lieut. Colonel Pluie, who is now retired, the penitentiary was run under an extreme severity which bred an atmosphere of fear. No efforts have been made at reformation and punishments have been frequent and severe.

Cleanliness is lacking in the kitchen. Kingston Penitentiary: This penitentiary, poorly situated to permit prisoners to work on the farm or elsewhere outside the walls, might better be used as a classified institution.

Deficiency as to classification, employment, education and recreation, are to be found in exaggerated form. The food is spoiled in cooking, and the kitchen is dirty. The hospital is the worst in any Canadian penitentiary.

Thirty In Japan Die In Accidents

TOKIO (AP)—Two express trains traveling in opposite directions were derailed Wednesday by a landslide between Wake and Kumaya in southwestern Japan, killing at least 20 persons and injuring 150.

Ten children were among those killed. Apparently the slide, loosened by a day-long rain, came just before the trains were about to pass each other.

Heavy rains at Shimonoseki, port on the extreme southwestern tip of Japan's main island of Honshu, also caused a landslide in which five houses were buried and 10 residents killed.

An explosion in the Milke collieries in Fukuoka prefecture killed at least 10 miners.

At one time in China's history, hundreds of Chinese counter-felers were sentenced to become slaves and work in the government mint.

Board Reports On Jail Shooting

OTTAWA (CP)—Shots were deliberately and unjustifiedly fired into the cell of Tim Buck, Canadian Communist leader, during the Kingston penitentiary disturbance October 20, 1932, "either with the deliberate intention of injuring Buck, or willfully, recklessly as to whether they did or not," Parliament was told yesterday.

The declaration was made in the report of the Royal Commission on penitentiaries tabled in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice. Sixteen pages of the report were devoted to examination of this celebrated case.

Buck, serving time in Kingston under the now-repealed Section 98 of the Criminal Code dealing with unlawful organizations, made his charge during a public hearing of the commission in Toronto, that he had been shot at deliberately.

REPORT TO MINISTER

The commission found Penitentiary Inspectors A. T. Craig and J. D. Dawson "did not prepare an honest report for the minister, but rather sought to place responsibility where it did not justly lie, on Buck, and this with a view to justifying the shooting, which they knew at the time to be unjustified."

At least three bullets and 10 pellets of buckshot were fired into Buck's cell by someone who knew Buck was in the cell at the time, the commission reported.

"A deliberate attempt was made to murder me," Buck told the first prison official to come to his cell on October 21, the report said.

"Buck was neither leading a demonstration nor inciting anyone to violence. There is evidence that his actions were to the opposite effect, and that, as on other occasions, he counselled the inmates against violence."

NO SUCH EVIDENCE

The Craig-Dawson report said "that firing was the only reasonable means possible to suppress what was taking place at this stage." This, the commission said, is entirely without foundation in the evidence.

In a report in 1933 to the Minister of Justice, "Penitentiaries Superintendent D. M. Ormond stated his opinion was "that the officers not only did not shoot at Buck, but deliberately aimed the shots to miss him, but to warn him that he must desist from his actions of making speeches and inciting the other convicts."

The commission declared the report showed Ormond tried to put the affair in an even more favorable light than the inspectors and drew attention to Ormond's evidence before the commission when he said: "I content there was no reason for firing a single shot during that affair."

The commission then found in respect to the Ormond memorandum:

"The memorandum prepared by the superintendent for the Minister of Justice was prepared in an unwarranted effort to justify what had taken place, and the superintendent wrongfully omitted therein to report to the minister all the facts that were within his knowledge, or to give the minister an honest opinion in regard thereto."

TORONTO (CP)—Tim Buck, Canadian Communist leader, who spent two years and 11 months in the Kingston penitentiary in 1931-33, said today the most gratifying thing about the penitentiaries commission's report tabled yesterday in the House of Commons was the fact it grappled with "the problem of making the penal institutions of service to the community."

"The findings of the commission in connection with the shooting at me during the 1932 riots and its exonerations of me speak for themselves," he said.

Little Theatre Head Elected

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ernest G. Mather was elected president of the Vancouver Little Theatre Association at the annual meeting here last night.

Vice-President H. H. Simmonds told the meeting the Little Theatre was "not yet out of the financial woods, but confidence in the theatre's future has never been greater."

He said the organization was the oldest theatrical association in Canada, and probably the oldest continuously operated amateur theatre in North America. It was founded in 1921.

BILL SOON FOR PRISON BOARD

Lapointe Expected to Introduce Act at Present Parliament Session

OTTAWA (CP)—It is expected Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Justice Minister, will bring in a bill this session to transfer management of the penitentiaries from a superintendent to a commission of three members. This would give speedy effect to a major recommendation of the penitentiaries commission in the report tabled in the House of Commons yesterday.

It was explained most of the report's recommendations can be put into effect by changes in the penitentiary regulations and therefore do not necessarily need an act of parliament. It would be at the discretion of the minister whether the proposed changes should be made by statute or regulation.

It is emphasized here that if the government has decided to accept the recommendations, its first step would be to appoint the new commissioners and let them have a hand in changes in regulations the administration of which would be their responsibility.

Little hope was expressed in official circles much progress could be made at this time on the proposal the entire penal system of Canada be centralized under the federal government and that the provinces retain only sufficient institutions to accommodate those convicted under provincial statutes or for short sentences. "With the provinces touchy about their rights, it would not seem to be a good time to make such a proposal to them," one official said.

Victoria Man On Union Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Slope Conference of Stereotypers and Electrotypers closed yesterday with the re-election of James Raymond of Los Angeles as president. W. Yeaman of Victoria, B.C., was elected vice-chairman and Bert Quigley of San Francisco was named secretary.

Pair Trapped In Mine Rescued

ASHLAND, Pa. (AP)—A father and son, trapped in a makeshift mine since early Monday, were brought out today by rescuers.

"Thank God, I'm out of there," were the father's first words. His son was too weary to speak. A physician said both Peter Shinkowsky, 48, Shenandoah, and Peter Jr., 17, appeared to be in good condition.

Rescuers at first had feared the men were dead.

Local Boy's Death Found Accidental

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—A coroner's jury last night returned a verdict of accidental death after investigating the death of Ian Herbert Rayment, 22, of Victoria, B.C. He was killed near here yesterday when he fell under the wheels of a moving train.

The jury heard two witnesses, Lorenzo Tremblay and Gilbert Yorkton of Montreal, who were with Rayment.

And, if you have a chance, you might watch a few other women, too. Your wife may not be just like others in many ways but, as a representative of the sex that has a considerable influence on that business of yours—women do more than 80 per cent of the buying—her reactions are worth watching.

Notice, for instance, what she reads and what interest she takes in advertisements.

You will probably find that, like a majority of homemakers, she gives close attention to the advertisements in her daily newspaper.

Women want to know not only what to buy but where it can be bought and how much it costs. The daily newspaper advertisements give this information.

Remember, when you consider advertising for your business, that the majority of women buy from newspaper advertisements.

An Illuminating Report

ALTHOUGH REPORTS TO PARLIAMENT by Royal Commissions often are conspicuous more for vague inference and generalities than for clarity of direction, the findings of the penitentiary commission, headed by Mr. Justice Archambault, just presented to the House of Commons by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, is both prolific in its facts and unreserved in its recommendations. During the course of its exhaustive investigation it visited 113 institutions in nine countries, heard evidence from a small army of inmates and officials, and, if a report of 400 pages plus an official summary, by any criterion, it seems to have done an excellent job of work.

It will be recalled that from time to time until a year or so ago Parliament and the public heard and read a good deal about Canada's penal establishments and their management. Notable among the Parliamentary advocates in a widespread agitation for prison reform was Miss Agnes MacPhail, who won the support of members of all parties. Especial emphasis was given to the demand for an inquiry, of course, by prison outbreaks from 1931 to 1935, indicating clearly to Parliament and public that something was radically wrong. It was not until the King government had got down to business at the beginning of 1936, however, that the commission which has now delivered its findings was created.

Chief among the report's recommendations is one that the present Superintendent of Penitentiaries, Major-General D. M. Ormond, be immediately retired, and that Inspector J. D. Dawson be transferred out of the penitentiary service. It will be remembered that in discussions of the Dominion's penal institutions, both in the Commons and in newspaper controversy, the names of these two officials were given liberal publicity. Nor were they entirely without friends while they were in the glare of the spotlight which debate turned upon them. Moreover, some of the bitterest complaints of prison administration, supported by what appeared to be unimpeachable evidence, were heavily discredited by those directly involved and pooh-poohed by some newspapers.

But the commission has spoken. It finds, among other things, that General Ormond had "failed to grasp the fundamental principles of penal administration, that he had intensified a militaristic control," and, reduced to a few words, the commission is of the opinion that General Ormond did not understand his job, thus, his incompetence demonstrated, he apparently had written into his own record all the proof of this contention that was necessary. The following extract from the official summary, however, indicates more specifically the definite nature of the conclusions reached concerning Superintendent Ormond:

"He has interpreted the regulations with undue severity, and, in the punishment of prisoners, he has violated their provisions. He has failed adequately to investigate the misuse of firearms and the ill-treatment of prisoners. He has issued misleading reports to the public and for presentation to Parliament by the minister."

"His arbitrary manner has antagonized the personnel of the service and was a major contributing cause of the riots and disturbances that have taken place since his appointment."

"His evidence before the commission was unsatisfactory, and he has completely lost the confidence of the staff in all the penitentiaries."

Under the present system of penitentiary administration there are three inspectors serving under the Superintendent. In the case of Inspector Dawson the commission finds that he "failed to perform his duties in a creditable manner in making important inquiries and that he has little knowledge of penitentiary management." Based on this judgment, therefore, the commissioners do not encourage his retention in this branch of the public service.

Many other aspects of penitentiary life and administration in Canada, of course, are ably treated by the commissioners and it ought to be safe to assume that in the interests of all concerned their report will have the early and practical attention by the government to which it is unquestionably entitled. As a public document on penology its importance cannot be overestimated.

Shocking The Senate

SOMETHING SEEMS TO TELL US THAT there is a little bad blood between Senator William Duff, a Liberal from Lunenburg, and Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport in the King government. A dispatch from Ottawa, at least, has intimated something of this nature.

It appears that the two gentlemen in question had "had words" about the disposal of an iceberg owned by the government and that at one time during the verbal exchange Senator Duff had approached the Minister with the suggestion that he, Minister Howe, was going to put the vessel in the hands of the salvage committee, to which the head of the transport department had retorted with the expressed belief that Senator Duff was "nothing but a damned windbag." The gentleman from Lunenburg, however, said: "Instead of knocking him down, as I should, I walked away."

All this, of course, is very reprehensible. It is no doubt permissible for politicians to exchange pleasantries on the hustings—or even in the less decorous House of Commons—to explain to a preoccupied populace their different views of public questions; but that such a violent conversational interchange as that which has taken place between two prominent adherents of the same political faith should be recounted in the uphoistered and dignified calm of the Senate is almost unheard of.

Rightly Esquimaux's Work

MARITIME PAPERS AND ORGANIZATIONS are campaigning and pulling political strings to have the two used destroyers, recently acquired from Britain by Canada, taken to Halifax for reconditioning on their way from England to Esquimaux, which is to be their home port. Work necessary to modernize them, it is reported, will take a few months. Halifax wants the job for its workmen. The argument is that if Esquimaux is to get the destroyers, Halifax should get the work.

We are unable to see the logic in this. The vessels were acquired for service on this coast because of what defence experts said was a pressing need. That being so, it should be the business of the defence department to deliver them here with the least delay. The government at great cost has established shops and docks at Esquimaux for carrying out just such work as will be required on these vessels. Equally important is it to retain in this area experienced artisans to man the shops. Unless work in their line is provided here these men naturally will move to other parts of the continent, placing Esquimaux at a disadvantage, especially in case of emergency.

It is to be hoped that Ottawa will react to the Halifax proposals on the basis of naval efficiency, not of down-east politics.

"Civilizing" War

THE NEW SAVAGERY EXEMPLIFIED by the intensified bombing of civilians by Francists in Spain and Japanese in China leads us to recall that since the beginning of time so-called civilized nations have sought and made agreements to make war less barbarous and since the beginning of time wars have grown progressively more barbarous.

In fact, the more the world has boasted of its civilization and the more it has mouthed phrases about humanity, the more brutal war has become.

In the dark ages the civilian population was sometimes put to the sword after victory; in these enlightened days the civilian population is slaughtered to achieve victory.

In the old days there were some comparatively humane conquerors; today the signal for war is the signal for mass murder. In the dark ages quarter was sometimes given even to fighters; in these bright days of glorious civilization no quarter is given even to babies.

Such is the result of centuries of efforts to make war "civilized."

Notes

Henry Ford retains his old-time optimism. Nothing has happened recently, he says, to change his conviction that "we are going to have the greatest era of prosperity and happiness we have ever known."

A fishhook which automatically withdraws itself from the clothing has been invented. What the average fisherman needs more is a fish which automatically withdraws itself from the water.

Canada's coast-to-coast airmail service will go into operation July 1, the Postmaster-General announces at Ottawa. But it will take as long to get a letter from Vancouver to Victoria as it does from Ottawa to Vancouver.

Failure of the Conservatives to elect a single member in Saskatchewan, leads the Toronto Star to reflect on the state of the grand old party. Of the 509 members in all Legislatures in Canada, Conservatives hold only 59 seats, with none in Prince Edward Island and none under the party name in Quebec. Including the federal house with the Legislatures, the total of elected Conservative members in Canada is 99 out of 754 seats.

SASKATCHEWAN TELLS ABERHART "NO"

From Toronto Star

Mr. Aberhart said with regard to the Saskatchewan election: "If we gain 10 to 15 seats, it must be said that we have done well. I am hoping that we may secure 28 to 30 seats." Instead he emerges from the contest with only a couple of followers, and these elected by narrow majorities. In many constituencies his candidates polled but small votes.

It is the most gratifying news that has come out of the west in many days. It may mark the beginning of the collapse of the Aberhart party in Alberta as well, for the crushing defeat in Saskatchewan cannot but have repercussions in the neighboring province.

Mr. Aberhart took a great risk when he invaded Saskatchewan—the risk of the emphatic rejection which has now materialized—but he was gambling for the rich prize of a west united under his banner, a prize of which he has long dreamed, but for which he can no longer hope. British Columbia and Saskatchewan have alike refused to be taken in by his promises.

As for the Conservatives, they have elected not a single candidate. It is one more commentary upon the disorganized state of that party throughout Canada.

ANKLES SAVED

NOT LONG AGO, only a few months ago, the women of America decided to lick Japan, to save China and to vindicate democracy. They decided not to wear Japanese silk stockings. Oh, splendid were the shouts of indignation against the cheerful Japanese habit of bombing civilian women and children and then attributing the carnage to Chinese anti-aircraft fire. Oh, lush were the slogans of the great silk boycott — "For Peace Set the Style, Wear Cotton, Rayon or Lisle" . . . "Make Lisle the Style, Wear Lisle for a While" . . . "If You Wear Cotton, Japan Gets Nottin'" . . . "Buy Liberation Hosiery."

Not very good poetry, perhaps, these slogans, but what a splendid cause they represented, what a noble aspiration! Yet I remember saying at the time, with some trepidation, that it wouldn't last, that women would never give up their silk stockings just to save a few million Chinese children from bombing and starvation. Several Victoria ladies got quite mad about it and said I was reflecting on the integrity of their sex. So I sneaked away and said nothing more.

Well, the latest indices of the silk manufacturing industry of the United States show that the silk business is back to normal again. The boycott is over, and the girls' ankles look just as attractive as they used to. Clearly the whole thing was a mistake in fundamental psychology. Ask women to go without food, ask them to suffer any hardship and privation, ask them to thirst and hunger in a good cause and they'll do it without a whimper, being braver than men. But don't expect them to give up style! not for all the Chinese in the world.

So long as Japan is exporting the raw material for stockings to make America's legs look neat, it has no need to worry about boycotts. Women will put their ankles ahead of democracy every time and, to tell the truth, the effect is prettier.

WRIGGLE AND SQUIRM

ONE ALWAYS LOVES to hear the local Communists attacking the politicians. They do it so artistically, not in your crude fashion, or mine. They show by the processes of material dialectics the inconsistency and the continual compromises of the politicians, where your first-rate Communist, of course, makes no compromise, hews to the party line, letting the chips fall where they may. The Communist doesn't squirm and wriggle like the politician. He has the only solution and he sticks to it.

Of course, the politicians don't know this, because they are too busy with their politics (few of them have read a book since they got elected), but the Communist Party of North America is now in the process of the greatest wriggle and squirm in the history of politics. It has abandoned entirely for the present its solution and its ideal. It is not advocating Communism any more. It is co-operating with the Democratic Party and with Mr. Roosevelt because it knows that its own policy, if pressed too hard, will only bring on Fascism, as it has in Quebec.

Ah, yes, but the Communists, who are not too idealistic to surrender to expediency, hope to rise again later, out of the ruins of Mr. Roosevelt and his capitalism. It is a temporary alliance, a marriage of convenience, and the divorce will be quick and brutal when the time comes. The allies of today will be liquidated when the Communists feel strong enough to do without them. For the present they will use them quite cold-bloodedly.

Meanwhile, it is a delightful spectacle of wriggle and squirm. The politicians should observe it when they get attacked from the left for wriggling and squirming. If only they would read a book once in four or five years they would know what is going on.

The fact, of course, is that politics is a process of wriggle and squirm and must be so as long as it represents human nature, which just now is wriggling and squirming as never before.

FOOTNOTE

FOR DELICACY OF SPEECH and rigorous self-discipline, it is hard to beat the London Daily Express, which recently printed the following charming item:

A fashionable audience—with Queen Mary in a stage-box—roared with laughter at the Haymarket Theatre, London, last night as Dame Marie Tempest closed the first act of her new play "Mary Goes to See" with the words: "Obviously a" (what a dictionary calls the female of the canine kind, or, more properly, a woman).

Over in England they protect people from the brutal realities of life.

Correct this sentence: "She described all of her ailments," said the other woman, "and I couldn't think of one when my turn came."

PUBLICITY PHONING

My neighbor's daily morning chats are no concern of mine. Save when they overlong obstruct. Our mutual party line. Or else engage the public phone. For platitudes benign.

It's horrible to overhear. What wasn't meant for you, But when the phone is on the counter. What are you to do?

Cease shopping and tramp home again. And wait till after two?

It's awkward when you recognize The lady's voice quite clear. What-time the gentleman's replies Boom close beside your ear. As he explains she couldn't have Been overheard, why fear?

But it is more uncomfy still. When suddenly you guess Exactly what it's all about. And who is in the mess. And why they have to telephone His wrath and her distress.

Surely when people only live A few scant yards apart, And have such confidential themes For gassing, heart to heart. The lad might have a private phone. Or even hire a cart.

—BYE-BYE NOW.

Changing England

By PETER STURBERG

LONDON.

THE ENGLISH are resisting—but they are becoming slowly Americanized.

When I lived among them eight years ago, they thought hot dogs had something to do with canines. Now they buy and eat hot dogs almost anywhere. In some of the snootier Milk Bars, which are really nothing but sandwich counters, hot dogs are spelled hot dogs.

Cocktail bars clutter every nook and cranny in the West End, and you can't tell the youth of the country anything about Manhattans or Side-cars. Some of the rebuilt pubs look dismally like our beer parlors both from the exterior and interior.

They are taking on the expressive phrases of North America and have invented a few of their own. In a Milk Bar off Piccadilly Circus I noticed "Moo Cow Specials" being advertised.

I also went to a "Revudenews" show where fully 75 per cent of the program was American. This, I understand, is the average in a British cinema.

Their radio blares out our North American jazz and the favorite crooners appear to be torch singers from across the ditch. The wireless listener is not ignorant of advertising. He can get all he wants—in English of course—from Radio Lyons, Radio Normandie, or Radio Luxembourg. Some of the advertising programs are canned ones shipped over from New York as records.

Which accounts for such an un-British expression as a "swift kick in the pants" falling from Lady Vere de Vere's lips. The favorite adjective in England right now is "colossal." Everything, no matter what its size, is colossal.

HUGE BLOCKS of flats (apartment houses to you) are going up all over London. The other day I had dinner with a young couple in a flat in Dolphin Square, which claims to be the largest apartment house in Europe and probably is the largest apartment house in the world.

Within its steel and concrete walls live 5,000 people in 1,250 separate apartments. They have every modern convenience, including the radio, which is piped into the apartments, giving them a choice of two programs (National and Regional) or four programs by paying more.

Dolphin Square has its own street of shops within the apartment house itself, its own swimming pool, squash courts, its own restaurant and cocktail bar (with dancing every night), its own park with half a dozen different kinds of gardens, its own nursery, and it even publishes its own magazine. It's colossal, I tell you.

But within their homes (houses not flats) the English still reign supreme. They will not have central heating. Roasting in front of an open fire, then slipping between glacial sheets, is too much for your hot-house Canadian. I caught a cold.

THE GOOD LISTENER

Loren Carroll in Esquire. The first requisite of a good conversationalist is not ability to talk, but ability to listen. And very few of us know how to listen. Real listening is something positive, not merely closing the mouth, letting another talk, and waiting until you can break in again. If you think it an ordinary trait, try paying strict attention to the next person who addresses you. Decide firmly to make no reply until 30 seconds after the last period. Listen to the tones of voice, watch the speaker's eyes, observe how he puts his sentences together, his choice of words, the cogency of his ideas, his sincerity or lack of it, his shrewdness or naivete. Follow it as closely as if you intended to write it down. You will realize you are having a new experience. And from the face of the person opposite you, you will realize that he is having a new experience, too.

WHITE RACE LOGIC

To the Editor:—For genuine and unblushing hypocrisy you can't beat the white race. A few years ago we destroyed crops and livestock to keep up prices while we let the Chinese starve in famines by the scores of thousands.

Now we are mad because the Japs have found a quicker way of killing the Chinese.

How will we explain it in the day of judgment?

ANALYZING ROAD ACCIDENTS

From St. John Telegraph-Journal. Some very interesting facts are yielded in an examination of some 200,000 road accidents in Great Britain within a year, as reported by the ministry of transport. It is shown that the great majority of road disasters are avoidable and that highway conditions are not nearly so important as individual care.

The great majority of mishaps for which drivers were blamed occurred because:

1. The drivers turned from one road to another without due care, 12.9 per cent.
2. Skidded, 10.4 per cent.
3. They were in too great a hurry and improperly overtook other cars, 1.2 per cent.
4. Their attention was diverted from the road for just that vital second, 9.8 per cent.
5. They misjudged the clearance distance or speed of another vehicle, 9.2 per cent.
6. They went too fast, 9.1 per cent.

In these cases, it is evident that common sense and safe driving are much the same thing.

This applies also to pedestrians who by the use of ordinary common sense might easily have avoided accident.

Baccarat is a wonderful sport, but it is too great a strain on the nerves. Also it is becoming difficult to find expert players. Amleto Battisti, "sky's-the-limit gambler, announcing his retirement.

ANOTHER MONEY-MAKER LIKE LIQUOR BOARD?

From Ottawa Journal. British Columbia is discussing compulsory liability insurance for motor vehicles, and a Vancouver paper estimates that if the province handled it an annual insurance fee of $30 per car would give the government a profit on premiums of $1,750,000. In other words, that would be just another tax on owners of motor vehicles.

Nanaimo Seeks Federal Loan

Island City Plans Waterworks Under New Federal Scheme

NANAIMO—To complete Nanaimo's waterworks system by finishing the South Forks pipe line, started in 1930, the Nanaimo City Council decided Monday evening to prepare a complete brief to be submitted by the mayor and council to the provincial cabinet under the provisions of recent legislation introduced by the Dominion Government, allowing loans to the amount of $200,000 at a rate of interest of 2 per cent for cities in order to complete self-liquidating projects such as waterworks systems or other public works utilities.

The brief will be completed immediately and the meeting with the provincial cabinet will be arranged as soon as possible.

A Vancouver Street—1883

When the Canada Life issued its first policy to a resident of British Columbia, back in 1883, most of what is now Vancouver was dense forest, with fir and pine trees as large as those in Stanley Park today. The settlement comprised only a few small buildings. The one industry was a saw-mill.

With the same enterprise so apparent in pioneer days, the Canada Life continues to safeguard the future of its policyholders and their dependents. Each week an average of approximately five hundred thousand dollars is distributed to those it serves.

Retires After Traveling Million and a Half Miles

Albert Homan Bostock will write his 48 years of service to the E. and N. Railway Company at the end of this month.

Born in Chingford, Essex, on July 4, 1873, he came to this country in the year 1889, and was first employed by the railway company in 1890, at which time he served as a watchman. In 1893 he went into the train service as a brakeman. He continued at this job until 1899 and was then promoted to the position of conductor, and has since attained the position of senior conductor of the road.

HIGHLY RESPECTED

Mr. Bostock is now continuing his duties in the quiet unassuming manner which has made him popular with all who know and work with him.

"Al Bostock?—why he's the finest railway man and gentleman that you could find anywhere," was one conductor's remark. In every department of the company the same high opinion of him is held.

FEW MISHAPS

In his years of railway service, Mr. Bostock has had very few mishaps or narrow escapes. One time in his braking days, he had climbed to the top of a carload of lumber to wave to friends when the engine struck a large tree that had fallen across the tracks. The engine and three cars were derailed and the lumber on the cars shot forward with the impact. If he had been at his position at the brakes he would have been crushed by the sliding lumber.

Mr. Bostock's approximate mileage traveled is 1,602,000 miles. Before the advent of the automobile his record passenger list was 1,700 handled on the round trip between Victoria and Wellington.

The Duke of Windsor when he was Prince of Wales, Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, Prince Arthur of Connaught, and Lord and Lady Byng have been among his passengers.

On his retirement, Mr. Bostock plans to take a busman's holiday to New York, where he and his wife will stay with their son Kenneth, who is on the stage there as a dancer. Mr. and Mrs. Bostock plan on returning here after their stay. Their home is at 638 Battery Street.

Fine Cattle Herds Expected For Fair

With $6,176 distributed among 585 prizes, some fine herds of cattle are expected to be sent to the Fall Fair of the B.C. Agricultural Association to be held at the Willows from September 10 to 17 inclusive, it was announced today by W. H. Mearns, secretary of the exhibition association.

For the first time in many years, E. and T. Raper Farm will send a large herd of Holsteins. This is the first entry received, although inquiries have been received from as far east as Ontario. Shorthorns, Aberdeen Angus, Herefords, Holstein-Friesian, Jersey, Ayrshire and Guernsey cattle will be represented in the show, with special prizes offered by the B.C. District Shorthorn Owners, the Aberdeen Angus Cattle Society of Aberdeen, Scotland, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

All entries in the livestock sections will be checked by the Canadian National Livestock Records of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, hence it will be necessary to have all entries in the local exhibition office not later than August 13. R. Rendle will be in charge of the cattle section this year, Mr. Mearns stated.

Bennett Scored For His Tactics

OTTAWA (CP)—When in the Commons yesterday Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett renewed his charges of patronage in the Kingston area, where he said "the atmosphere is redolent of patronage of the worst possible kind," Labor Minister Rogers and Arthur G. Slaght, Liberal, Parry Sound, Ont., joined in denouncing the tactics of the opposition leader.

For Mr. Bennett in his role as "a vindictive partisan" Mr. Rogers said he felt "a mixture of sorrow and contempt." None of his charges had been supported and his evidence was such that, as a barrister, he would not submit to a law court.

Mr. Bennett said he was getting further information and would complete his charges later.

He would also deal again later. Mr. Bennett said, with statements made last week with regard to road construction in Manitoba—"statements which were as grossly inaccurate as it is possible to be."

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rose-town-Biggar, said Canadian National Railway stationery of the roadmaster's division of Margot, Saskatchewan, had been used to circulate, "through the regular roadmaster's channels," an appeal to the section workers to support the Liberal government in the recent provincial election in Saskatchewan.

The circular was not signed, but Mr. Coldwell said the source could be ascertained. It was accompanied by a leaflet containing a Liberal party appeal for votes from the association in Regina. The Canadian National was being used for political purposes.

poses, Mr. Coldwell said, urging an investigation.

Prime Minister King said the matter should have been referred to the management of the Canadian National, which, so far as this government was concerned, was being operated free from government interference. He believed the matter should be investigated, but by the railway management.

REJECT STATE MEDICINE PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The new president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Irwin Abell, last night rejected the idea of state medicine and served notice that the profession would fight to keep physicians "free, independent scientific and ethical."

He spoke a few hours after the association's delegates had heard the government's proposals for providing medical care to the growing mass of indigents and underprivileged—a problem that has given rise to suggestions of "socialized medicine."

Everybody knows that the V-8 engine will give more power and performance. But here's the amazing thing about the Ford V-8 engine: It gives more economy too! That is not just a claim, but an established fact—proved in actual service by many thousands of owners of Ford V-8 trucks and commercial cars.

All-inclusive cost records show that Ford has developed an entirely new economy for truck and commercial car operation. Ford V-8 units do more work in less time—which in turn reduces the entire cost of the job.

Ford units have very low fuel consumption; but fuel consumption alone is not a true measuring rod, for this does not take into consideration the time spent or work accomplished. Ford economy includes all three items—one reason that more Ford V-8 Trucks were sold in 1937 than any other 1937 make.

Every year for 21 years Ford economy has been increased. This year, give your business the advantages of a V-8 engine and save money as well. Get the truck that does more work, in less time, at lower cost. See the nearest Ford dealer—make your own "on-the-job" test and prove these facts yourself.

Letters to the Editor

YIELDED TO FASCISM

To the Editor:—If Christianity concerned itself less with individual virtue and more with social progress, the world would not be at the brink of another human slaughter. It is all very well to pray for peace, while the countries of the world purchase armaments. It is all very well to preach and pray for a perfect kingdom, while despots and tyrants are elected at the polls. It is all very well to say, "Give us this day our daily bread" while people of the world starve. But why not act?

Christianity, in the name of Christ, has allowed Fascist terror to reign.

LIBERTY AND MORALITY

To the Editor:—"Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof," says Holy Writ.

Liberty, in the widest and fullest sense, absolute and unrestricted, is the perfect and inalienable right of every responsible being. He may think, speak, choose and act, in all spiritual matters, or refrain from so doing, according to the dictates of his own conscience, or the promptings of his own voluntary and uncontrolled will.

This liberty is an essential principle, inseparably connected with, and inherent in, the very idea of a free, moral and intelligent agent, who is answerable on his own behalf for the proper or improper exercise of the faculties, powers and liberties with which he has been endowed; therefore it must exist in unlimited degree in the relations existing between every man and his Creator.

Liberty is the gift of God to each and every created moral being. God will not force the conscience or the will, and He forbids any others to do so whether individuals or nations. The same liberty He reserves to Himself. He will not force man to accept salvation on His terms, nor will He be forced to save man on any other terms. He offers to man the only condition and means whereby it is possible for him to be saved, and faithfully warns him of the inevitable consequences of rejecting the same. But whether or not he will accept or reject is left to the voluntary choice of each individual. Each individual is free to obey or disobey. Each individual must also abide by the result of his choice.

Christ—has forever separated the spiritual realm, or the church, from the secular realm, or civil government, and no human power can of right or justice unite them. What Christ has put asunder, let no power attempt to link together. Keep the church and state forever separate by repealing all Sunday laws.

HOUSING FOR THE FEW

To the Editor:—In a previous letter I gave statistics to prove that the facilities for negotiating a loan under the Dominion Housing Act are denied to 56.2 per cent, if not 79.9 per cent of the total income receivers of Canada. The act, in its application, is only of value to those of quite substantial means and unquestionable credit.

To provide adequate housing to those in the low income brackets, the 56.2 per cent of Canadian income receivers, it is proposed to encourage "limited dividend companies" to erect accommodation and rent it to the citizens included in the above groups. No details are yet available, so constructive criticism is not possible, but it is a terrible reflection on our economic system that more than half of the people of Canada are classed as not in the financial position to own their homes.

In the "Report of the House of Commons, Special Committee on Housing, 1935," the following statement appears: "Experience shows, and evidence confirms that the lowest-paid section of the community cannot pay rent much less a price, for the standard of occupation which society must from time to time fix in its own interest as a minimum needful to maintain health and social welfare." There is only one satisfactory and permanent way to meet this problem, and that is by socializing the means of production, but the government will not do that. It can, however, make it possible for even those in the lowest income groups to own homes, even if it be a modest one.

SEES BRITISH TRADE HOPE FUTURE

To the Editor:—Premier MacKenzie King assumes that farmers in western Canada can sell their crops in Europe. But potatoes worth a dollar weigh 100 pounds, and as it costs a dollar to send them from the west to Europe, the farmer gets no payment. Freight cost, due to weight and long distance, kills the trade.

About two years ago the Canadian Government spent $500,000 to advertise Canadian farm produce in Britain. Yet figures given by the Canadian Bureau of Statistics show that, with 16 bushels per acre, all the Canadian wheat sold in Britain last year (1937) could be grown on 1-32nd part of Manitoba! Think of that after $500,000 of advertising in Britain when the Canadian Government cannot balance its budget! Yet the government persists in trying to sell western farm crops in Europe in spite of such bad results, thus causing poverty in the west.

At the Coronation of King George VI in England, Premier King was much noticed and listened to as the chief politician in the British Dominions. That seems to have given him more regard for "overseas trade" with England than for the welfare of western Canada. Thus he favors "overseas trade" with England although it is not good for western farmers.

Those farmers cannot sell their crops well by "overseas trade." They have had 50 years of bad trade by that plan. They need factory towns as local markets.

THROUGH THE PANAMA

To the Editor:—Accompanied by my family, I left Vancouver on the Norwegian S.S. Washington Express, Fruit Line, for Europe, on April 23. We reached San Pedro (Los Angeles), where we remained till April 28, loading citrus fruit for the British market, at a reasonable freight rate that enables the consumer to buy cheaply.

We reached Panama on the evening of May 6. Early next morning we started on our journey through the Panama Canal, some 40 miles in length. There are six locks spread along its length; average rise of water is 95 feet. The Canal varies in width from about 100 feet to approximately 1,000 feet, with small rivers on its sides. There are 40,000 navies always employed to keep the Canal in repair. It is under the United States ownership, with an army of 20,000 stationed there. There was an immense rain-storm ere we reached Balboa, where 40 inches of rain fell in 24 hours. This made the weather most cool and pleasant in passing along the waterway. Small hills line the sides most of the way, with all kinds of tropical plants, all so green and fresh. We were seven hours in passing through. We passed 10 steamships of various nationalities.

After the Canal we entered the Caribbean Sea, and then saw as the final habitation, Cristobal and Colon, adjacent to one another, until we got to Trinidad, Port of Spain. At Trinidad we loaded 10,000 cases of citrus fruit, which took two days. Trinidad is one of the largest ports of the West Indies, with a population of 250,000, under British rule. It has many attractions, principally lovely botanical gardens. It was very warm.

Continuing our journey, we passed the large island of Barbadoes. We were then in the South Atlantic Ocean. Saw lots of flying fish; one dropped on deck.

May 17 was Norway's national day (like our 24th of May). It was celebrated by Mr. Bjornstad, president-director of the company, arranging a fine program of sports under the direction of a jovial commander, Captain Anderson. The ship's choir sang many patriotic songs. There was a banquet. The enjoyable event finished off with a dance on the main deck, with all on board taking part. Continuing our journey under pleasant weather conditions, we eventually reached Glasgow, having traveled, according to mileage, half way round the world.

LIBERATOR

To the Editor:—Referring to your "Parallel Thoughts," I thought your recent contributor in the magazine section pretty thoroughly put the writings of Paul in their proper category. If not, then Swedenborg could do so for you if you would allow him to.

Do not the following give a sufficient air of respectability to my efforts, if the thing itself (which I prefer) fails to impress? "The most remarkable step in the religious history of recent ages is that made by the genius of Swedenborg."—Emerson.

"Swedenborgianism has done the liberating work of the last century. The wave Swedenborg started lasts to this day."—Edward Everett Hale.

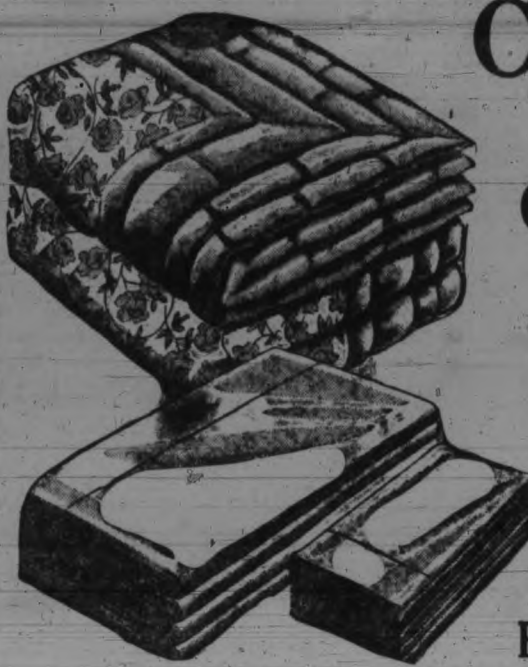

"To my mind the only light that has been cast on the other life is found in Swedenborg's philosophy."—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

"Emanuel Swedenborg had the sanest and most far-reaching intellect this age has known."—Henry James Sr.

The poet, Edwin Markham, in an address in Boston said: "If Swedenborg had never expressed another idea than his immortal saying, 'All religion has relation to life, and the life of religion is to do good,' he would have given the world enough to inspire a hundred seers. I never speak his name without emotion. He lifted me out of a quagmire of theology. He lifted me up to see the stars."

Under the auspices of the Centennial Ladies' Guild a silver tea will be held on Friday afternoon at the schoolroom from 3 till 5. Miss Helen Kirkwood of the Y.W.C.A. will be the speaker, and a musical program will be given.

The Women's Union of First Baptist Church will hold their regular monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 in the church parlor. Miss H. Kirkwood of the Y.W.C.A. will be the guest speaker.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria and Island branch of the Canadian Navy League has arranged a tea for Friday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. from 3 to 5.30. Pupils of Miss Dorothy Cox will dance during the afternoon.

Final plans have been made for St. Alban's Church garden fête on June 22. The affair will be opened by Rev. Montagu Bruce, and the Oaklands School band will be in attendance, also "Snow White" and a generous goose. Included in the list of attractions is bowling and dart-throwing, for which cups will be given.

Special features of Centennial W.M.S. Temperance program given at Monday's meeting were addresses by Mrs. J. P. Hicks, Presbyterian, Temperance secretary; a recitation "Who Will Drink It," by Gweneth Phillips, who won the No. 1 junior medal in the W.C.T.U. elocution contest, and a drama by four ladies presenting various aspects of social drinking of alcoholic beverages. The drama was in charge of Mrs. A. H. Rogers, Mrs. R. Couch, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. G. Henderson. Mrs. M. Elder, president, opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. J. W. Alton presided. Community Friendship Secretary Mrs. A. E. Farquhar reported 82 calls on sick and strangers. Mrs. G. Deaville read a letter from Glasgow sent to the auxiliary by Mrs. S. S. Peat. An invitation was accepted to attend the W.M.S. rally on June 24 when Mrs. George Guy will give the dominion board report. The July 4 meeting will be held in the Japanese Tea Gardens and invitations extended to the Chinese auxiliary, the Japanese auxiliary and to the W.A. of Centennial Church. The meeting closed with recitation of the Watchword, "Not by Might, nor by Power, but by My Spirit, Saith the Lord of Hosts."

Gown Fashioned Of Fresh Roses

PARIS — Begum Aga Khan, beautiful French wife of the Aga Khan, wore a dress of real roses at a fancy dress ball at Cannes. The gown was inspired by the "sari," the loosely-draped Indian robe, and was the creation of a famous dressmaker. The sari was covered with red roses of many shades.

Roses were sewn on at the last minute, after having been specially treated so that they would keep fresh all the evening.

Heiress Weds And Defies Father

Andrea Luckenbach Is Bride Of Young Tradesman

NEW YORK (AP) — Defying the wishes of her father, Andrea (Bubbles) Luckenbach, 18, heiress to $1,000,000 within three years, was married late yesterday to William Dobbs, 22-year-old tradesman and amateur horseman.

An Episcopal priest added a corollary objection, refusing to perform the ceremony, after Edgar F. Luckenbach, operator of a shipping firm that owns a vessel named "Andrea Luckenbach," disapproved on the ground that she was too young.

The couple then was united by a Methodist Episcopal minister and went to sea for a honeymoon aboard a yacht owned by the bride's half-brother, Lewis Luckenbach, only member of the family in attendance. He gave her in marriage.

The couple planned to be married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Great Neck, Long Island. Then the Rev. William Grimes announced: "I don't care to marry two people of varying social and financial standing. I have a principle."

Dobbs' mother, Mrs. Henry Reston of Forest Hills, had said she was certain the wedding would "go on as scheduled." She was partly right.

The service finally was held in the green-roofed farmhouse of Adolf Gami, first vice-president of W. R. Grace & Company, at Kensington, Long Island. The Grace Line competes with the Luckenbach liners in the inter-coastal trade.

Rev. Dr. Richard Hegarty, pastor of the Manhasset, N.Y., Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of 30 guests.

The fortune the bride will inherit, no matter what the commodity may do, is from the estate of her dead mother, Mrs. Andrea Marie Fenwick Luckenbach of Toronto.

The honeymoon cruise will be short—just a few days on Long Island Sound. After that, Dobbs will go back to his job of selling butter and eggs wholesale. He is well known in eastern riding circles as an excellent equestrian who has appeared in many horse shows.

A donation to the educational fund was voted by the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter at the monthly meeting held last night in headquarters, with Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, regent, presiding. An interesting report on the national annual meeting held recently in Vancouver was given by Mrs. Dowdall. The resignation of Mrs. Frank Jordan from the chapter was accepted with regret. A letter of thanks was ordered sent to Miss Mitchell, director of nursing at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and to the conveners of the various stalls of the recent "Dutch Tea." Mrs. H. Davies was appointed convener of the chapter's corner for Alexandra Rose Day. The councillors, Mrs. J. W. Hudson, Mrs. R. J. Beattie, Mrs. S. Barker, Mrs. M. Cottet and Mrs. W. Ellis were appointed to act as conveners of committees for any undertakings planned by the chapter during the year. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting, with Mrs. Cottet and Miss Parsell acting as hostesses.

London Host To Red Cross Officials

Duke of Gloucester To Preside At World Conference

By MOLLIE McGEE

Canadian Press Correspondent

LONDON—Red Cross officials of more than 60 countries representing 20,000,000 members, will hold a four-day meeting in London, June 20-24. Japan and China are sending delegates. Germany and Czechoslovakia will be represented. Canada's delegation will be headed by Dr. F. W. Routley, Norman Sommerville, K.C., and Mrs. H. P. Plumptre of Toronto. The United States group is headed by Miss Mabel Boardman of Washington and Murray Bay, Que.

This is the second time in this century that the quadrennial gathering will take place in England. In 1907 Queen Alexandra welcomed delegates in a letter now framed and hanging in the Red Cross offices. In easily-read large square handwriting she greets the visitors, then adds that she "is sure all those attending will be glad to know that Miss Florence Nightingale was still with them and in good health." Miss Nightingale died in 1910.

At the meeting in Tokyo in 1934 it was decided the next meeting should take place in Madrid, but when war made this location undesirable the British Red Cross extended an invitation.

DUKE TO PRESIDE

The agenda for meetings, at which the Duke of Gloucester will act as chairman, is the largest and most important ever brought before such a gathering. Chief aim will be to combine and simplify the many intergovernmental treaties and agreements into one code, so that in case of a war the Red Cross rulings could be easily understood and applied.

At present the various treaties agreed upon at Geneva and the Hague are in half-a-dozen volumes and under different headings. Some are so obscurely worded it is difficult to be sure of their exact meaning.

Four committees will work at the same time, one devoting attention to general Red Cross matters, another to the legal technicalities to be simplified, another to relief questions in distressed areas throughout the world, and the fourth to the educational role of the Red Cross from both the practical and moral points of view.

To obtain a more satisfactory monetary arrangement for the Swiss Red Cross, who, as neutrals, are carrying on work in the war zone in Spain.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it poor taste to send a wedding invitation to someone so far away that attendance at the ceremony is out of the question?

2. Is it correct to have the bride couple receive the guests in the back of the church after the ceremony if there is to be no reception elsewhere?

3. At a small informal wedding where the bride wears a corsage bouquet instead of carrying one, should she wear gloves?

4. Is the term "wedding" correctly applied to a marriage in a minister's study or his home?

5. Should the invitations to a large wedding be mailed earlier than for a small home wedding? What would you do if—

You are planning the seating arrangement at a wedding breakfast. Where would you seat the man whose wife has been matron of honor but he was not in the wedding party? Seat—

(a) Only the wife at the bridal table?

(b) Both the man and his wife at the bridal table?

(c) Both of them at a table other than that of the bridal couple?

ANSWERS

1. No. It means "We'd love to have you and wish you lived nearer."

2. Yes.

3. No. It is merely a "marriage."

4. Yes. Three weeks ahead for the former and about two weeks for the latter.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(a).

Isaac L. Dougan Died Yesterday; Lived in District Over 60 Years

Member of one of the oldest pioneer families in the Cowichan district, Isaac L. Dougan of Cobble Hill passed away yesterday in the Duncan Hospital, aged 69 years. Mr. Dougan came to the district with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. James Dougan, about 60 years ago and for many years operated the Cobble Hill garage until his retirement.

He was predeceased by his wife about three years ago, and leaves six brothers, John J. Nathan P., Abraham A., Enoch, Stephen and Cyrus Dougan, all of Cobble Hill, and two sisters, Mrs. W. Bartlett and Mrs. M. Hogge, both of Victoria.

Funeral services will be held at Whidden's Funeral Parlor, Duncan, tomorrow afternoon at 2, after which the remains will be laid to rest in the family cemetery at Cobble Hill.

AIRPLANE ROBOTS
LATEST HOBBIES

WEST HARTFORD, Conn.

The much-pushed-around radio amateurs who have continually "worked" the unexploited portions of the radio spectrum of wavelengths, and then found themselves pushed out as soon as commercial possibilities came into being, now have a new field of activity. It is radio, remote-control of small engine powered model airplanes.

Model airplanes, with tiny but powerful gasoline engines, have become increasingly popular because of their performance in distance, speed and altitude. And with some of them now 13 feet in wingspan, they are not so tiny either.

The increasing presence of such powered models around airports has now led to a ban on their uncontrolled use despite cries from the model plane enthusiasts. In answer to those cries has come an answer from the radio "ham." The answer is radio, robot control of model airplanes so that they come outside the "uncontrolled" phrase in the laws.

Two Hartford radio amateurs, Ross A. Hull and R. B. Bourne, describe in the current issue of the technical radio magazine QST, a control method of using a lightweight radio receiver aboard powered model airplanes. Hull is associate editor of QST, while Bourne is employed by the Maxim Silencer Company at Hartford. Such controlled model planes would be useful for anti-aircraft target practice without risk to pilots.

So far control has only been achieved on the rudder of a 13-foot wingspan craft, but progress is being made on radio control of the elevators and ailerons of the craft.

But Hull and Bourne's methods are no secret. Any enthusiastic radio amateur can build a similar controlling mechanism. Because all radio transmission must be in charge of a licensed radio operator it looks as though the radio "hams" and the airplane "hams" would form a permanent alliance.

Illness Forces Japanese Delegate to Abandon Red Cross Mission

REGINA (CP)—Although not fully recovered, Prince Iyesato Tokugawa is expected to leave Regina tonight on a train for Vancouver, where he will embark for Japan.

For the last two weeks he has been a patient in a hospital here. He will likely leave the institution on a stretcher and be taken aboard the train.

At a meeting of the hospital board last night his son, Iyemasa Tokugawa, former Japanese Minister to Canada, attended to express his appreciation and gratitude to the board and the hospital for the excellent care given his father during his illness.

The prince took ill en route to London to attend a meeting of the International Red Cross.

Famous Musical Festival Judge Addresses Association

The photograph above shows Sir Hugh Robertson, famous adjudicator of musical festivals and noted musician from Glasgow, addressing the luncheon meeting of the Association of Canadian Clubs at Montreal. Sir Hugh is seen stressing a point in his interesting address on the value of music in the world today. At the head table surrounding Sir Hugh are to be seen, from left to right: Mr. Justice Dymally, past-president of the association; Mrs. D. C. Coleman, Mrs. Stuart Ramsey, president of the Women's Canadian Club; Mayor Raynault, and Mrs. A. N. Jenks.

L. W. BAKER IS PROMOTED

Named as Assistant General Manager of Alaska Line

SEATTLE—Charles Bocking, vice-president and general manager of the Alaska Steamship Company, announces the promotion of L. W. Baker, traffic manager, to assistant general manager. The position is a new one. Baker began his shipping career in 1914 with the Pacific Alaska Navigation Company, original corporation of the Admiral Line, and after seven years, with that company joined the Alaska Steamship Company in 1921, taking charge of intercoastal activities, which included operation of the motorship Kemecott in the Pacific-Atlantic trade. He was appointed assistant general freight agent, then general freight and passenger agent, and in 1933 was promoted to traffic manager. Baker came to Seattle in 1935. He attended the Central School, Seventh Avenue and Madison Street, and was graduated from Queen Anne High School.

Received Letter Before Suicide

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Cadet H. G. Campbell of Port Arthur, Ont., received a nasty letter last month mentioning his connection with the death of another cadet, the coroner's jury investigating Campbell's suicide at the Royal Military College was told last night.

The jury found Campbell died Monday of "a rifle bullet wound, self-inflicted in his dormitory at the Royal Military College, when he was in a state of despondency."

Col. C. R. Stein, college adjutant, testified Campbell crumpled a letter from an anonymous person and threw it away; but afterward he was confined to his bed for three days.

Campbell was found dying as the college's annual prize presentation ceremony was about to start. R.M.C. authorities said he had been brooding over the death in April of Cadet R. D. Smith, who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in a friendly shirt-pulling match with Campbell. A coroner's jury cleared Campbell of blame.

"Did you know of any letters addressed to Campbell?" Col. Stein was asked.

"Yes, I saw one about May 9," he replied. "It was anonymous and it was later forwarded to the department headquarters at Ottawa. Campbell had received the letter and had mentioned it to his friends. It was a nasty letter for a cadet to receive and it cast a slight against the cadet that he had been directly connected with the death of another cadet some time previous."

Death Duties Loophole Scored

LONDON (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express today attacked the law which enabled the late Duke of Devonshire to convert his estates into a company, saving his heirs more than £1,000,000 ($5,000,000) in death duties.

Twelve years ago the duke formed the Chatsworth Estates Company, embracing properties worth more than £2,000,000. Under the law the estates ordinarily would have paid £1,000,000 in death duties. Actually they are paying about £270,000.

The Daily Express urged a gift tax, to be levied at the same rate as the inheritance tax, to frustrate such incorporations.

ALASKA MAIL CONTRACT LET

SEATTLE—Capt. Peter Wold, who operates the motorship Fern from Seattle to Alaska, has been awarded the United States mail contract between Seward and western Alaska.

The Fern will become the mail boat in the Seward-Western Alaska route July 1. The contract is for a period of four years. The vessel is now at Godnews Bay, Alaska.

Formerly a United States lighthouse tender, stationed at Ketchikan, the Fern was purchased by Capt. Wold from Capt. H. F. Haines of Seattle and equipped with a 300-horsepower diesel engine. Capt. Wold is master of the vessel.

AIR SUBSIDY FOR ZEBALLOS

Director of Air Mail Services Says It Will Be Considered

VANCOUVER—George C. Herring of Ottawa, director of air mail services, announced at a meeting with civic officials yesterday that a contract for air mail from Vancouver to the Yukon via Fort St. John, B.C., had been signed three years ago.

Mr. Herring said the question of a federal subsidy for air mail to Zeballos, Vancouver Island's new west coast gold field, would be "favorably considered" on his return to Ottawa. His announcement was made at a meeting called by the Vancouver Board of Trade to press for a direct, coastal route by way of Prince George, Hazelton and Atlin.

Mr. Herring said the Ginger Coote Airways Limited, subsidiary of United Air Transport of Edmonton, would inaugurate a weekly service from here with twin-engined planes in August. The ships will fly to Fort St. John and connect with the regular United Air Transport route from Edmonton to Whitehorse, Y.T.

W. A. Rundle, transportation manager of the board of trade, told the air mail service director, that 2,000 letters per week are now carried to Zeballos by Ginger Coote Airways and Canadian Airways, free of charge.

Alderman H. D. Wilson, chairman of the city council's airport committee, termed the letting the northern contract a "betrayal" after the meeting.

"To think Ottawa would lead the city council to believe it was sending men here to make a complete survey of the direct route and then find the contract was awarded for the other route behind our backs is a great disappointment," he said.

FAILED IN WORK
Col. Stein said Campbell had failed in his year's work.

"He learned of this when the results were announced on Saturday. Under the college regulations he could not return."

There are about 2,500 species of snakes in the world, and 300 of them are poisonous.

Tetanus Antitoxin Urged in Accidents

CHICAGO—Tetanus antitoxin, the lockjaw preventive, should be given to every person injured in a street accident, even if the injury is only a small scratch or cut, physicians are reminded in a warning appearing in The Journal of American Medical Association.

Fresh evidence for the need of applying this preventive measure is reported to the medical association by Dr. Eric C. Gilles of the Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health.

The germ that causes lockjaw, or tetanus, to give its scientific name, was found in nearly one-fifth of 63 samples of dust collected on downtown streets in Baltimore, Dr. Gilles reported. Hospitals have recently been called old-fashioned for adhering to the custom of giving the tetanus antitoxin to all persons scratched or cut. The practice could be abandoned, some physicians argued, because since the disappearance of horses from the streets of most cities, street dust probably would not harbor the tetanus germs. These germs, according to generally accepted theory, regularly inhabit the intestinal canal of man and other animals.

Tetanus germs, however, are widely distributed in street dust even at the present day, Dr.

Gilles asserts on the basis of his findings. Hospitals are thus vindicated in adhering to their practice of giving the antitoxin to all street injury victims.

The fear that some persons sensitive to the serum of the antitoxin may be made temporarily ill by it is, in Dr. Gilles' opinion, not sufficient justification for failing to give this preventive of a horrible and fatal malady.

KNEES WENT STIFF IN HIS SLEEP

Agony to Move Them When He Awoke

"For three years," writes this city man, "I suffered with pains across the lower part of my back. In the morning I awoke with knees so stiff that it was agony to move them. Special treatment would make the pain a little easier—but that was all. Then a friend recommended Kruschen, which my doctor said I might take. I began with about a coffee spoonful first thing in the morning. To my surprise I found my rheumatic aches and pains disappearing. I kept on with Kruschen, and although I am more than middle-aged, I have been free from pain for two years, and able to go to my office every day."—A.W.

Rheumatic conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients assist nature to expel the dissolved crystals through the natural channels. (ADV.)

TOWN TOPICS

A car owned by Robert Tyre, 3930 Quadra Street, was damaged when struck by an unknown car while it was parked on Foul Bay Road last night, according to a police report.

Two motorists were fined $2.50 each when they pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of driving to the common danger. Constable Tom Banister testified he paced the accused's car at 50 miles an hour up Yates Street.

William A. Calladine was fined $20 in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of driving to the common danger. Constable Tom Banister testified he paced the accused's car at 50 miles an hour up Yates Street.

Mark M. Connelly, M.P.P. for Omineca, whose home is at Fraser Lake, in northern British Columbia, arrived in town today to interview members of the government on business concerning his constituency. He is registered at the Empress Hotel.

Cars driven by A. Thornber, 1349 Grant Street and E. R. Bewell, 1638 Pinewood Avenue, were involved in a collision at the corner of Linden Avenue and Oscar Street last night about 7.15, according to a police report. There were no personal injuries but the Thornber car was turned on its side by the impact.

Last night in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Mrs. O. Brake addressed the Victoria and District British-Israel Association on "God Is His Own Interpreter." The speaker traced the order of interpretation from Genesis to Revelation, and said nature, contrast, parallel, chronology, history, type and anti-type all worked out God's plan in the saving of mankind.

The Chamber of Commerce delegation to the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade at Comox tonight and tomorrow left Victoria this afternoon by car. In the party were Duncan MacBride, president; John V. Johnson, vice-president; G. Hamilton Harmon, Norman Foster, assistant secretary; W. T. Straith, M.P.P., Harold Husband and Charles Goodrich.

On charges of vagrancy arising out of their arrest by Constable Thomas Stevenson outside the Johnson Street liquor store yesterday, Gerald O'Neill, John Stator and Frederick Yates were given prison terms by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning. Yates and Stator were each given 15 days. John Folen, also arrested with the accused, was convicted and remanded until tomorrow for sentence. All four pleaded not guilty.

Will Approve Bond Exchange

City Council to Hold Special Meeting Tomorrow to Pass Resolution

A special meeting of the City Council will be held tomorrow at 10.30 to consider a resolution which would empower the Bank of Montreal, London office, to exchange City of Victoria bonds for the new issue created under the refunding act.

The resolution recommended by D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, follows: "Resolved that the Bank of Montreal, London, England, be and is hereby authorized to issue refunding stock and to exchange the same for outstanding stock of the City of Victoria, pursuant to the Victoria City Debt Refunding Act, 1937, and also pursuant to said act to exchange the appropriate refunding debentures for City of Victoria outstanding debentures bearing a British Government revenue stamp."

OTHER BUSINESS. Listed on the agenda for consideration is a petition from residents of First Street, who seek a sidewalk on that roadway; a letter from the Young Citizens' League, asking improvement of softball fields in the city; a request for the completion of a sidewalk on Turner Street; an application for a relief case for assistance in working a gold mine; a motion from Alderman Adam suggesting tarriating the cinder path around the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club's greens and other matters of a routine nature.

Approval will also be sought for amendments to the Streets Traffic and Regulation By-law. Recent changes included in the by-law cover alterations in the parking regulations and seek to establish a uniform limit for the commission sight-seeing companies in the city can pay tour agencies in the city.

City Controls Grain Elevator

Control of the Ogden Point grain elevator came directly within the jurisdiction of the city today.

In a telegram to Mayor Andrew McGavin, Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, stated consent forms granting Victoria complete leasehold rights for the structure had been signed and were being forwarded by mail.

As the result of the action, which culminated in the minister's consent, the city secures a quit claim from the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Ltd. and Smith Bros. & Wilson, holders of a second mortgage on the property.

Subject to the Crown's original lease clauses, which call for insurance and for maintenance of the construction, the city could sell the leasehold rights, provided it secured a purchaser, or could rent the holdings if it found a client.

"Y" CAMERA CLUB ACTIVE

In the social and educational report presented by Dr. T. W. A. Gray at the Y.M.C.A. board meeting last evening, work being done by the Camera Club of the Association was featured.

The club has been invited to enter displays in the London Salon of Photography, London, England, because of the success they have had in various overseas amateur photography competitions that they have entered. The report also showed the activities of the group. At present they are completing four reels of "Y" activities which will be shown in the near future.

Frank Paulding's financial report stated a general satisfaction along that line of the institution. E. Harrison reported that last month there were 183 sessions with 3,076 in attendance and in May, 1937, there were 171 sessions with 1,987 in attendance.

W. T. Straith presented the Boys' Division report which gave a detailed account of the various sections of boys' activities.

The house committee report pointed out that a comprehensive survey had been made of the painting and repair work to be done on the building. This will be completed before the fall opening. This was presented by J. H. Johnson.

H. B. Witter, president, was in the chair. The devotional exercises were led by Rev. G. A. Reynolds.

LONDON (AP)—Slight earthquakes rattled furniture in central London today for the second time in five days. Shocks were recorded at 2.35 and 2.40 p.m. No damage was reported. Previous shocks occurred Saturday.

Winner of Contest Will Represent Victoria in San Francisco Next Year

The names of six charming young ladies will go before the public in the election contest which will open tomorrow to select "Miss Victoria" to preside over the August celebrations and act as Victoria's representative at the San Francisco World's Fair next year, officials of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today.

The contest will continue for 37 days, closing on July 23, when the candidate with the largest number of votes to her credit will be crowned "Miss Victoria" at a large public demonstration.

The two runners-up in the election will act as attendants to the "Queen" and will also accompany her on the trip south to the Exposition of 1939.

The winner of the contest will receive a prize of $150. Second prize will be $100. The candidate securing the third largest number of votes will receive $75.

The contest is expected to be one of the keenest ever staged in this city as all the candidates are highly regarded and have many friends and admirers in the community.

Tickets will be sold at 10 cents each and each ticket will count as 10 votes. Tickets will be in books of 10 and proceeds from these collections will go toward expenses and prizes for the August parades.

The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce plans to give the race a big send-off and tomorrow night at the Crystal Garden will put on a big, free night of carnival entertainment to which the public is invited.

Tomorrow night's affair has been entitled "Joy Date for Thirty-Eight," and Thomas Bird has lined up an attractive program for the evening, which will be climaxed by the introduction of the six candidates in the Miss Victoria contest. Respective managers will also be introduced.

One of the highlights on the program will be the sunken treasure hunt, for which a handsome cash prize will be presented.

A six-piece orchestra will be on hand to provide modern music for the "littery dances," and there will be other attractions to which the public can turn to for amusement, such as wheels of fortune and many novelty games.

The candidates, sponsors and managers follow:

Miss Kay White—Sponsored by the United Commercial Travelers and managed by Warren W. Martin.

Miss Jean Wilson—Sponsored by MacDonald Electric Limited and managed by George E. MacDonald.

Miss Phyllis Addison—Sponsored by the Blue Line Transportation Company and managed by Miss G. Townsend.

Miss Doreen McGregor—Sponsored by the Scottish societies of Victoria and managed by Ed. Whyte.

Miss Jean Bishop—Sponsored by the Public Services and managed by Thomas G. Harris.

OBITUARIES

ROBERT JAMES PARSELL

After a long illness, Robert James Parsell of Benvenuto Avenue, Tod Inlet, passed away this morning at Resthaven, aged 73 years. He was born in Scarborough, Ont., and was a marine engineer on the Great Lakes before coming to Victoria in 1910. He entered the employ of the B.C. Cement Co. in 1905 and retired in 1930. Mr. Parsell is survived by his widow and one son, at home; two daughters, Mrs. J. Edgar Miles, Vancouver, and Mrs. G. A. Turner, Ocean Falls; one sister, Mrs. M. J. Little, and one brother, David Parsell, Victoria; also three grandchildren, nephews and nieces. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

ETHEL C. MOORE

Many friends attended the funeral rites for Miss Ethel C. Moore yesterday afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral, Rev. A. G. Hendy officiating, assisted by Rev. C. C. Raven. The hymns, "Thine Forever, God of Love" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," were sung. The Twenty-third Psalm was read. An abundance of beautiful floral tributes was received. The following were the pallbearers: R. F. Davy, W. J. Neal, Walter S. Miles, E. A. Winter and Frank W. Gooch. The remains were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company was in charge.

HERBERT COWARD

Herbert Coward, aged 71, passed away suddenly yesterday afternoon at the home of his daughter. He was born in Lincolnshire, England, and came here on a visit six weeks ago from Chilliwack. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Iva Coward, and a son, George Herbert Coward, Victoria; three sons, Harold, Sidney, Seattle; Cyril, Walter and Claude Louis Coward, in Portland, Oregon; also one brother, Walter Coward, in England. The remains are resting at Sands Mortuary Chapel, and the funeral will be announced later.

IRENE UNDERWOOD

The funeral of Mrs. Irene Underwood, who passed away Sunday, in Sidney, took place this morning, the cortege leaving the Sands Mortuary at 9.15 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock mass was celebrated in the Assumption Catholic Church, West Saanich, by Rev. Father Joseph J. Cyr. Beautiful flowers and a large gathering of friends marked the service. The pallbearers were: Raymond George, Chris Paul, Horace Paul, Francis Sampson, Jasper Charles and Edward Joe, and the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic Cemetery.

HORACE WHITEOAK

A large number of sympathizing friends attended funeral services yesterday afternoon at the S. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home for Horace Whiteoak, Rev. S. Ryall and Rev. T. G. Griffiths officiating, during which one hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," was sung. Many beautiful floral tributes were received. Representatives from the following organizations were present: Women's Auxiliary and members of the Victoria Horticultural Society, the Model School, Venture Club and Soroptimist Club, members of Local 147, I.B. of B., Women's Auxiliary and members of Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. and W.A. Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion. The remains were laid to rest in St. Luke's Cemetery, Cedar Hill, and the following acted as pallbearers: W. H. Turnbull, Arthur Nappett, D. D. MacTavish, A. Irving, F. E. Boulter and G. Le Gallais.

J. BURTON FORSTER

Word has been received by Harry Burton Forster, 1447 Hampshire Road, of the death, on June 13, of his father, Major Gen. J. Burton Forster, C.B., of St. Brides, Bournemouth, England, in his 83rd year. He had a long and distinguished career, being gazetted to the Royal Irish Regiment in 1872. He took part in the relief of Khartoum with Kitchener, his boat crew being the winners in the race up the Nile. He was specially mentioned at that time in Lord Wolseley's special general order, dated Korti, February 4, 1885. He saw service on the frontier in India, later going to the Indian staff, where he held several high appointments. He held the southern command in Ireland, 1907 to 1910, and the Quetta Brigade in India, 1910 to 1913. During the Great War he trained the 55th and 57th West Lancashire divisions and till his death he was colonel of the now disbanded 18th Royal Irish Regiment, succeeding the late Lord Ypres. He was a "shikar" of great note, having shot big game in the Himalayas. Accompanied by his wife, hunted even in Ladakh and western Tibet. He wrote under the nom-de-plume of E.C.A.J., "The Sportsman's Vade-Mecum to the Himalayas." He is survived by his widow and two daughters in England; two sons, Harry in Victoria; Kivas in Vancouver, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. Burton Forster, Victoria.

RIGHT MAN HAD THE WRONG CAR

Police Figure in Speedy Chase on Island Highway of Suspected Car Thief

It was the case of the right car but the wrong man when Inspector J. T. Boulton and Constable Douglas Bone figured in the apprehension of a reported stolen car yesterday.

Police were informed by Eric L. Fullerton, 264 Beechwood Avenue that his car had been stolen from a parking place on Yates Street. Subsequent information reported the car was en route over the Island Highway to the Forbidden Plateau.

The police lost no time in giving chase and in a fast prowler car overtook the "stolen" machine near the Shawanigan Lake road. The driver was amazed when informed he was being held for questioning but when the party returned to the city it was discovered the driver had hired a car for his Island trip but by mistake the wrong car had been pointed out to him as the one he hired. It developed he had hired an Austin car and the machine for hire had been parked alongside one of the same type, which was that owned by Mr. Fullerton.

Explanations were soon made and the driver proceeded on his Island journey.

Doubt Ability To Feed "Sit-downers"

Alderman B. J. Gadsden, manager of Sunshine Inn, the charitable institution where destitute are fed here, expressed grave concern today over the possibility the inn would be called upon to act as commissariat for invading "sit-downers" from Vancouver.

He questioned the inn's ability to finance the feeding of a large number of men from Vancouver and declared he considered such a possibility beyond what the people who support Sunshine Inn are required to do.

The institution had been looking after a large number of drifters from outside points but its finances could not stand a prolonged siege by any group such as the proposed delegation expected from Vancouver, he said.

DORIS MARY PALIN

Mrs. Doris Mary Palin of 1729 Hampshire Road, passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Tuesday afternoon. Born at Manitou, Manitoba, 33 years ago, Mrs. Palin moved to this city 14 years ago from Winnipeg, Manitoba. She leaves her husband, Hugh; two daughters, Patricia and Peggy, and two sons, Peter and Brian, at the family residence; her mother, Mrs. Ethel Young, Winnipeg; one brother, Reg Young of Saskatoon, and one sister, Miss Ina Young, in this city. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, at 2.30, from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns will officiate and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

C. A. Ross was granted a permit for the construction of an $1,800 four-room dwelling at 3003 Cedar Street by the city building inspector's department today.

VEGA TO LOAD SEAL SKINS

U.S. Transport Going to Pribilofs For $1,650,000 Cargo

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Feminine America as well as women of the Canadian provinces should be interested in the forthcoming cruise of the navy transport Vega, which arrived from Norfolk, Va., yesterday.

Sailing from Bremerton navy yard July 27, the Vega is to proceed to the Pribilof Islands to load 50,000 sealskins, valued at $1,650,000. The skins represent this season's seal catch, and will be apportioned in accordance with international agreement, between the American and Canadian bureaus of fisheries. The Vega's sealskin cargo will be unloaded at Seattle, part going to St. Louis for the annual auction sales and the remainder to Toronto.

"Marco Polo" Is Coming Monday

You won't see your Chinese laundryman in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Adventures of Marco Polo." For the new Gary Cooper starring vehicle, which opens at the Plaza Theatre on Monday, is laid in the 13th century when the Mongolians stood over six feet tall and had wispy whiskers and jeweled fingernails.

According to Robert Stephano, whose job it was to change from one to 700 Occidentals into Orientals every day, "The Adventures of Marco Polo" is the toughest picture from a make-up standpoint in the history of Hollywood.

The first character Stephano worked on was Kublai Khan, who is played by George Barbier. Mr. Barbier looks like anything but a Chinese, but when Stephano got through with him he might have been born in Pekin seven centuries ago.

BOWES UNIT AT CAPITOL

Popular Radio Amateurs Appearing on Stage

Radio listeners will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing some of the outstanding amateurs who have appeared on Major Bowes's Amateur Hour on the stage at the Capitol Theatre today and tomorrow.

Ten acts of vaudeville entertainment will be presented four times daily and the brilliant cast will include the Top Hatters, sensational roller skating team; the Six Philharmonics, harmonica wizards; Jacques Gokcy, novelty pedestal dancer; Jean Rose, wizard of the keyboard; Ben Steen, sensational colored baritone, who won a recent broadcast, and whom the major calls "an amateur Paul Robeson"; Dave Barry, the man of a thousand faces, and who is also the master of ceremonies; Albert Hall, human piccolo; Pearl Robbins, toe-tap dancer; Mildred Maye, popular blues singer; and last but not least, the Four Brothers of Swing.

Adapted from the successful stage play, "Storm in a Teacup" now at the Dominion, is a whirlwind comedy romance.

The action takes place in picturesque Scottish settings and the story tells of the complications which arise from a young reporter's exposure of a civic chief's harshness in ordering the destruction of a dog because the owner cannot pay for its license. This leads to a prosecution, and the court scene which follows is uproariously funny.

The clever dialogue is expertly delivered by a superb cast including Vivien Leigh and Rex Harrison, supported by Sara Allgood and Cecil Parker.

"Tom Sawyer" Is Atlas Booking
Both extremes of acting experience are represented in the cast of David O. Selznick's technical production, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," showing tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre.

Tommy Kelly, 12-year-old star of the piece, has had no previous acting experience whatsoever.

May Robson, who plays Aunt Polly in the picture, which is directed by Norman Taurog, with Jackie Moran and Walter Brennan, has been in the theatre 54 years.

Tommy was discovered as a Bronx schoolboy by talent scouts who had tested, viewed or interviewed more than 25,000 boys looking for an unknown to play Tom Sawyer in the Selznick production of the Mark Twain classic.

OAK BAY THEATRE
The radio technique which Bob Hope, singing comedy star of the airwaves, has acquired stood him in good stead during the filming of Paramount's new girl-and-music-filled musical comedy, "The Big Broadcast of 1933," in which he is featured with W. C. Fields, Martha Raye and Dorothy Lamour, and which is now being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre.

In the film, Hope is cast as a radio master-of-ceremonies, who broadcasts daily from a trans-Atlantic liner.

INTERVENTION IS POSSIBLE

Japan's Demands on Yangtze May Bring Crisis, Says Hongkong Educationist

If Japan insists on the withdrawal of British and American protective forces from the upper Yangtze a crisis will be precipitated and intervention might follow, in the opinion of E. A. White, headmaster of the Ellis Kadoorie Indian school at Hongkong, who reached Victoria this morning aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan.

He is going to England with his wife on furlough.

The river gunboats were there to protect their respective nationals and would remain on duty in spite of Japanese threats, he said.

The feeling of uncertainty, which for a time prevailed at Hongkong, has disappeared now that the base has been made virtually impregnable. Mr. White stated. The fortifications at Hongkong have been greatly strengthened in recent months and the military garrison and naval units materially increased.

Hongkong is but 70 miles distant from Canton, China's southern capital which has been heavily bombed by Japanese planes of late with large non-combatant casualties.

Mr. White says that 250,000 Chinese refugees have been taken care of in Hongkong during the war.

SALE STARTS THURSDAY—9 O'CLOCK DOUGLAS ST. STORE

DOWN THE GANGWAY

MANY ON EMPRESS

Decks of Ss. Empress of Japan were crowded with travelers as the vessel, inbound from the Far East, berthed at the Rithet docks at 9 this morning. There were 715 passengers aboard, including 220 first class, the largest list handled by any vessel of the trans-Pacific fleet this year.

Many of them were public officials and military and naval officers returning to England on furlough and businessmen completing trips to the Orient.

At Honolulu the liner picked up 172 passengers, including a party of school teachers, mostly women coming to the Pacific northwest to spend their holidays following the closing of the schools of Hawaii, and Hawaiian and Chinese educationists from Honolulu en route to the National Education Association convention, which opens in New York June 25. The majority of the teacher group disembarked here to take passage by Ss. Princess Marguerite for Seattle.

LEGAL LIGHTS

Prominent among the saloon passengers was Sir Atholl Macgregor, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Hongkong, accompanied by Lady Macgregor, who is proceeding to England on extended furlough. Sir Atholl handled a heavy legal calendar during the Supreme Court sittings at Hongkong and he is anticipating his holiday. Another legal light aboard the liner was Judge W. F. Frear of Honolulu, a former governor of Hawaii, who is proceeding to the United States with Mrs. Frear.

Military men on board included Brigadier F. W. L. Bisset, brigade commander of the volunteer corps and acting general officer commanding at Hongkong, proceeding to England.

Major F. W. Gerrard, commissioner of police at Shanghai, is retiring from his long-service duties in China, and intends to reside permanently in Canada. He is accompanied by Mrs. Gerrard.

Bernard Guggenheim, principal of the Japan Import and Export Commission Company, with Mrs. Guggenheim and their son, Bernard, were passengers on the liner. Mr. Guggenheim, a frequent trans-Pacific traveler via Victoria is en route to New York. He said he proposed to return to Kobe by October.

D. Datt, executive engineer with the Indian State railways, passed through en route to London from Calcutta. He was accompanied by his wife, who presented a picturesque appearance in her brightly colored silks and sandaled feet.

All railways in India are state operated. Mr. Datt, however, stated that the trip to Europe had nothing to do with railway development.

FOR OPERATION

After spending 23 years in Korea, Rev. E. H. Arnold, Anglican priest of Seoul, traveled across the Pacific by the Empress. He is going to London for observation in connection with an international movement.

"They have diagnosed about everything over there and I am now going to London to find out what is really wrong," he said.

PRINCE ABOARD

Prince B. Boncompagni of Italy, who has been making a tour of the Orient, traveled by the Empress of Japan as far as Honolulu, where he disembarked to take passage to San Francisco.

BAN TO CONTINUE

Japan's ban on the import of luxuries will continue for at least two years after the termination of the undeclared war in China, in the opinion of A. Rupp of the Swiss Watch Import Company, Kobe, who is going on to Zurich, Switzerland.

The Swiss watch business in Japan, he said, had been seriously affected by the import regulations.

TO RESIDE HERE

Intending to retire and reside permanently in Victoria after many years of municipal service in the Orient, F. W. C. Clarke, engineer to the municipal council of Tientsin, China, reached the city by the liner Empress of Japan today.

His wife and two children, who have been here for some time, were at the dock to meet him.

Other people of prominence arriving by the Empress of Japan today were: Mrs. Helma Ott, wife of the German ambassador to Tokyo, and her son, returning to Berlin; Mrs. E. S. Crocker II, wife of the secretary to the United States embassy at Tokyo, en route to the United States, accompanied by her daughter; Alfred L. Castle, attorney of Honolulu, accompanied by his wife and family, and Lieut. J. C. and Mrs. Briant, bound to Lake Louise on holiday; F. S. Gibbs, British Consul at Canton, China; Miss F. I. S. Boreel, niece of the governor of the Dutch East Indies, en route to The Hague, Holland; Commander F. R. Davey, director of the E. D. Sassoon Banking Corporation, Shanghai; R. W. Roberts, manager of the Chartered Bank of Hongkong, and Mrs. Roberts; W. T. Lutz, general manager of General Motors Corporation at Osaka, with Mrs. Lutz and son; George Watt, retired plantation manager of Hawaii, en route to England with his wife; Dr. C. Milnor, head of the Honolulu medical clinic, Honolulu, accompanied by Mrs. Milnor and their son; S. F. Wright, commissioner customs at Shanghai and Dr. H. F. Hungerford of the Hind sugar estates at Pangasinan, Philippines.

Around the Docks

Store employees, particularly, and citizens of Vancouver will this afternoon enjoy an afternoon cruise to the Gulf Islands through medium of Canadian National Ss. Prince Robert.

The crack C.N.R. steamer sailed from Vancouver at 2 this afternoon, and will return via Active Pass, Swanson Channel and Boundary Pass.

"Tomorrow the Prince Robert will make a day cruise from Vancouver to Jervis Inlet."

MOVERIA COMING

Next ship of the Donaldson Line to reach Victoria with general cargo from the United Kingdom will be Ms. Moveria, due June 21, according to Bob Cumberbirch of Rithet Consolidated Ltd., general agents for the line.

Ss. Gregalia, Capt. A. Bankier, here at the beginning of the week from Glasgow, has cleared from the Fraser River for London and Liverpool via the Sound.

Cargo lifted by the ship at Vancouver and New Westminster included 1,000,000 feet of lumber, 1,500 tons of metal, 500 tons of barley and 400 tons of canned goods, doors and other wood products.

Danish Ms. Stensby, regular caller at this port, and British Ss. Boxhill are new Canadian Transport Company fixtures listed to load lumber at Victoria.

Both ships are scheduled to reach here June 20.

Stensby will load for Port of Spain, Trinidad and Bridgetown, Barbados. Boxhill will take cargo for the United Kingdom.

Flying the Italian flag, Ss. Saeta is due to arrive at the Canadian National docks to pick up a parcel of lumber.

YACHT ORCAS HERE

The 70-foot United States army yacht Orcas, Capt. Garfield, spent the night at the Enterprise wharf in the Inner Harbor and left this morning on a month's cruise of northern British Columbia and Alaska waters with Col. H. J. Wild, his wife and secretary, and James Frutt, army engineer.

Orcas is equipped with two 200-horsepower Stirling engines and is a modern craft in every way.

TRIANGLE TOUR

EVERYTHING on a new scale! Sky-thrusting Rockies—so massive they crowd out all mountains in memory. An inside sea-line so smooth it pictures cliffs, waterfalls and forests like a mirror!

Plan time for Jasper Park Lodge, luxurious play-center of the world's largest national park. Golf, swimming, canoeing, tennis, trail-riding, hikes and alpine tours. Jasper is your gateway to the gigantic Columbia Icefield—new this year! Rates at the Lodge are $7 a day upward, including meals.

The Triangle Tour is an easy two-weeks vacation, from home and back. Ask now for scenic folders.

$40.40 round trip from VICTORIA

(Or ask about special all-expense rail and steamer tours from Vancouver, with optional routings.)
